GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
State of Alabama, }
Montgomery, July 14, 1868. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives :

In assuming the duties of Governor of the State of Alabama, it will doubtless be expected of me to make at least a few general remarks to you, as the representatives of the people, touching the condition and needs of the Commonwealth.

I congratulate you upon the near restoration of our beloved State to that place in the Federal Union from which the mad counsels of folly and ambition so rudely tore her, and in which alone she can realize the blessings of peace and prosperity. It is especially gratifying that she will resume her place in the nation with a constitution embodying the fullest assertion of the just principle set forth in the Declaration of Independence—"That all men are created equal ; that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights ; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness"—the principle which underlies the whole fabric of our National Government, and by which, in her short history, our country has achieved results hitherto unexampled in the world's annals. This principle has heretofore been applied to but a portion of our people. We now enter upon a new era, in which it is to be made applicable to all classes ; and as its partial operation has resulted so beneficially in the past, it is no violent presumption to suppose that its more extended application in the future will secure to us correspondingly greater blessings. It will be for you, gentlemen of the General Assembly, to frame the laws necessary to give effect to this principle. To this end, you need to exercise great moderation and firmness, and to avoid violence, so that all shall see in the future of the State, the wisdom and truth of the policy which seeks the good of the whole by the enfranchisement, the protection and the elevation of each individual member. Our Constitution affords to every man the same opportunity enjoyed by other men, upon the single condition that he will not seek to deprive his fellows of that which he esteems to be good for himself. Let our laws, made in pursuance of the Constitution, conform in like manner and justice and even-handed dealing, so that the humble or the ignorant shall have the same opportunity for the development of himself and his children with his more fortunate neighbor. Give every one encouragement to work out his own elevation, and from the efforts of individuals to advance themselves, we shall have the highest possible aggregate development of the State.

You are doubtless aware that many good citizens of Alabama have been misled by the enemies of reconstruction into a false belief concerning the purposes and aims of the new government. They have been made to believe that the government about to be inaugurated would be one of great extravagance and improper application of the public funds, burdening the State, so as to drive out good citizens and prevent others coming in. It will be a satisfaction to us to show by our actions the falsity of these misrepresentations, and to prove that the most judicious management of the public finances is not only compatible with, but is a natural effect of the enlarged and liberal ideas we have adopted as the basis of our political action.

It is a matter for hearty congratulation in this connection, that with the assurance of her restoration to the Union, the bonds of Alabama have materially appreciated in the chief money market of the country. The generous confidence shown by capitalists in the integrity, as well as in the prosperity of our State, under her improved and liberal form of government will, I doubt not, be appreciated and reciprocated by you in efforts to maintain inviolate the good faith and honor of the State, and to show that the most stable and successful government rests naturally upon the most just and free institutions. To this end the utmost economy should be practised, consistent with fair remuneration for valuable services, and that due regard for the advancement of their interests which the people of the State have a right to expect at your hands.

The first of these interests is that of education. A sound and thorough common school system is not only the great want but the only hope of the Commonwealth. We are far behind most of our sister States in this respect. Thirty-seven thousand and six hundred of the adult white population of Alabama in 1860 could not read and write, and the colored people are still more deficient in education. The operation of our old labor system, now happily passed away, tended naturally to the production of one class possessing lands, wealth and education; and of another and larger class poor, depressed, and almost destitute of knowledge or desire for improvement. With enlarged freedom and full opportunities for individual development should come the most ample facilities for obtaining that information that makes a man the peer of his fellows, and enables him to protect his own interests, at the same time that he is better fitted to discharge his duties as a citizen. We must see to it that every one in the State shall have an opportunity of acquiring an education. For this purpose the expenditure need not be lavish or extravagant; but it should be ample and ungrudgingly bestowed, the more so as it is by far the best use to which the public funds can be devoted. It is true economy for the State to promote the education of all her children, for by no other investment will she so surely and so abundantly be repaid. The history of the States of the Union fully proves that the material prosperity of the commonwealth advances in the same degree that education is diffused among the masses of the people. It is with States as with the pyramids—the greatest danger lies at the base. If the foundation is not made secure by the ed-education of the masses who form the basis of the nation, the whole superstructure must sooner or later inevitably crumble.

It will be for the Board of Education to arrange the details of the school system, subject to your power of revision. I trust the wisdom and advantages of the laws to be made in this connection will soon crimson with shame the cheeks of the authors of the senseless outcries raised by the enemies of our free constitution, against the provision for universal education.

Your attention will also be directed to the development of our material resources and natural advantages. The same system of labor which heretofore imposed ignorance upon the masses of the community, led our law-makers to neglect the elements of wealth with which Alabama is blessed by the Creator beyond almost any other State. Controlled by a rich and prosperous class, naturally indisposed to share their monopoly of profitable production, and averse to the introduction of diversified industry, lest its possessors might prove missionaries of doctrines inimical to that system upon which their prosperity apparently depended, our former legislators made but few efforts to attract to Alabama the population, labor and enterprise which have made other States outgrow her in numbers and wealth.

Our vast timber region has been comparatively unproductive; our mines are unopened, our grazing lands are ranged over by worthless dogs instead of sheep; our agriculture has been confined to a single staple, and pursued with a reckless disregard of its plainest laws; and our unsurpassed water power is suffered to run unimproved to the sea.

To change our policy in regard to these interests, to foster every enterprise that seeks to develop the natural wealth of the State, and attract hither a portion of the great tide of foreign immigration as well as of the skilled laborer and capital of the North, will be a pleasant and profitable task, and will doubtless engage your early and earnest attention.

The constitution recognizes the importance of our industrial interests, by committing them to the charge of a special department, for the support and efficiency of which it will be necessary for you to provide. To this department also is assigned the charge of the prosecution of a geological survey of the State. It is highly necessary that this great want should be supplied as soon as it can be done consistently with thoroughness and accuracy. The work of Professor Tuomey is a mere outline of the picture he did not live to complete, but its usefulness, and the avidity with which it is sought after by capitalists and men of science, clearly show the need of a complete and particular survey of the State.

It is also your duty, gentlemen, under the provisions of the constitution, and in accordance with the usage of this and other States, to provide for a suitable organization of the militia. We trust that the mission of the bullet has forever ended in our country, and that our work is henceforth to be prosecuted beneath the white wings of the angel of peace. It is hoped, therefore, that there will be no necessity for legislation in this respect, further than to provide such an organization of the militia of Alabama as will show to any who are evil disposed, that the authorities have means at command promptly to meet and punish any attempt to disturb harmony and good order.

It will be well in preparing the law for this purpose, to provide all necessary safeguards against the improper use of the organization. We would neither force nor threaten any who are law-abiding and peacefully disposed; and it is confidently believed that we shall find no more use for the militia hereafter than we had before the rebellion.

It may be well also to adopt such measures as may seem to you fit to preserve inviolate the perfect freedom of the ballot, and to provide certain and severe punishment for bribery and intimidation of voters. Your duty in this respect is plainly prescribed in section 36 of the Bill of Rights, and recent experience in this and adjoining States show the necessity of stringent legislation on the subject.

The constitution requires the General Assembly to provide from time to time, for a registration of electors, and it will be necessary to make some provision at your present session for the approaching general election. The main objection to any system of registration is its expense, and an opportunity will be afforded you in framing this law, to show your purpose to secure the most economical administration of the government.

It will be well, in my opinion, by a simple act of legislation, to conform the Code of Alabama to the changed relations of our people, and the alterations made in the organic law. I think it will be only necessary to make those provisions apply to all citizens which were heretofore restricted in their operation to white persons only. The Code is a very good one. It embodies the wisdom of many able jurists and wise men; its provisions have been the subject of well known decisions by learned judges, and are well settled and correct in principle. To discard it for a new one would be to incur a great expense, to entail much litigation upon the the people, and, after all, perhaps, to exchange it for an inferior system.

It is made the duty by the constitution to report to you the condition of the State and her public institutions. It is impossible for me at this time to comply with this requirement as fully as I would like, having no reports from the State institutions, and being unfamiliar with the details of the financial affairs of the Commonwealth. I have, however, been kindly furnished by Governor Robert M. Patton with an exhibit of the financial condition, which I beg leave to submit to you instead of any statement of my own.

With fortunes wrecked by civil war, our people are very poor, and the burthens of the government, under the most favorable circumstances, will necessarily be felt to be grievous. Let us then proceed with wisdom and caution. Let us make no violent changes in the laws or their administration. Let our only innovations be such as will adapt our institutions to the new basis of enlarged freedom, and secure the utmost possible benefit from our great natural wealth and our geographical advantages.

Above all, let us have peace, and as a great step towards peace—as an earnest to all our fellow citizens, that we mean peace and good will to all, I respectfully suggest to you the propriety of availing yourselves of the power, wisely conferred upon you by the constitution, of removing the disability to vote, imposed by the second clause of the third section of article seven of the constitution, upon those who are disqualified from holding office by the proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States, known as article XIV. The registration oath required to be taken by the voter, is intended to guarantee the perpetual possession of civil and political rights by all men in Alabama. I deem any disfranchisement unwise, except for crime.

It has been truly remarked, that any large number of persons disfranchised by law, will speedily constitute a running sore upon the body politic. Let us rather avoid such an evil than be compelled to find remedies for it. Our constitution, with this exception, provides for the civil and political equality of all men. Let us do away with the exception, and make our organic law perfect in its work of guaranteeing civil liberty to all men.

In conclusion, gentlemen, you will pardon me for again reminding you that you have assembled to legislate in the interests of the whole people. Knowing you as I do, and judging of your motives by what I know of my own, I am assured that you will perform your duty in no bitter or partisan spirit, and that your acts will one and all promote the prosperity and welfare of every citizen.

The waves of popular feeling run high after such a political storm as that from which we are now emerging, and the tendency of man, whose feelings have been outraged by wanton insults and merciless abuse and slander, is naturally toward retaliation when power is in their hands. But our revenge, if we need any, will be best obtained by steadily pursuing such a wise and prudent policy in the administration of the government as will command the confidence and respect of all true hearted and patriotic men.

Divesting ourselves of all selfish and partisan animosities, and cultivating that magnanimity of spirit which springs from the consciousness of right, let us endeavor to act well our part in this eventful age. With singleness of purpose, let us so legislate for this great Commonwealth that coming generations shall look back to this day as the greatest era in our history, and cherish in grateful remembrance those who have been the benefactors of their race. Recognizing our dependence upon Almighty God, in whose hands are the destinies of nations, and imploring his benediction upon your counsels, may peace and prosperity crown your efforts, and spread, not only over this Commonwealth, but over all the States of our restored and regenerated Union.

WM. H. SMITH.

On motion of Mr. Pennington, the message was read by the secretary, laid on the table, and fifteen hundred copies ordered to be printed in pamphlet form for the use of the senate.

Then, on motion,

The senate adjourned till 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER AND TRUSTEE,
Montgomery, July 13, 1868. }

To the Hon. the Speaker of the House of Representatives :

SIR : For the information of the General Assembly, I beg leave to submit a statement of the State finances, connected with this office.

The indebtedness of the State on the 10th of January, 1861, on outstanding bonds, was as follows :

5	per cent. bonds, payable in	N. York in 1863,	$1,889,000
5	"	" " " " " 1865,	52,000
5	"	" " " " " 1872,	168,000
5	"	" " " " " London 1866,	648,000
6	"	" " " " " " 1870,	688,000

 Interest on each amount payable semi-annually.

The interest on the bonds payable in New York, was paid up to and including the semi-annual dividend, due 1st Nov. 1861; on those payable in London up to and including the dividend of January, 1865. An act of the Legislature of the 18th of January, 1866, directed the issuance of new bonds, having twenty years to run from the first of May, 1863, to be substituted for those due in New York in 1863 and 1865, and for the purpose 1,941 bonds of $1,000 each, were issued and placed in the hands of Duncan, Sherman & Co., financial agents of the State of Alabama in New York, except such as were presented here for exchange.

An act of the Legislature of the 13th of February, 1866, authorizing the issuance of bonds having (20) twenty years to run from the 1st of November, 1866, to take up and fund the unpaid interest from the 1st of November, 1861, to and including November, 1866, which was done by the issuance of bonds amounting to $473,800, and placed in the hands of Duncan, Sherman & Co., as above.

Neither the exchange of the bonds nor the funding of the interest has been completed, but both are progressing as fast as the old bonds and coupons are presented.

At the date of the last account rendered by Duncan, Sherman & Co., 1865 bonds had been exchanged, and $460,400 of coupons funded.

An act of the Legislature of February, 1867, authorized the bonds due in London in 1866, to be extended with bonds of a similar kind, having twenty years to run from the 1st of July, 1866, and in pursuance thereof 648 bonds of 225 or $1,000 each were issued and sent to the Union Bank of London, Finance Agent of the State of Alabama in London, to be exchanged for those due in 1866. The act of the Legislature of the 13th February, 1866, authorizing the funding of the unpaid interest in New York, also authorizing the funding of the unpaid interest due in London from January 1st, 1865, to and including 1st January, 1867, with bonds having twenty years to run from 1st January, 1866, and bonds for that purpose, amounting to $147,300, were issued and sent to the Union Bank, of London.

The accounts from London, showing the amounts exchanged and funded, have not been received of late date, but are daily looked for.

The interest payable on the bonds in New York, from 1st of May, 1867, to and including the dividend due May 1st, 1868, has been paid; and also, that on the bonds payable in London from 1st June, 1867, to and including 1st January, 1868.

The next installment of interest to be provided for will be due in New York on the 1st of November next, and amounts to $64,570 00. The next thereafter will be due in London on the 1st of January next, $20,295 00, besides the current rates of sterling exchange.

The bonded debt of the State, connected with this office, now stands as follows, viz :

5	per cent. bonds, payable in N. York in 1872,	$	168,000
5	" " " " " " 1873,		1,941,000
5	" " " " " " 1886,		473,000

The above interest is payable in May and November.

6	per cent. bonds payable in London in 1870,	$	688,000
	Interest payable 1st of June

5	per cent. bonds, payable in London in 1886,	$	648,000
5	" " " " " " 1886,		64,800
6	" " " " " " 1886,		82,500

Interest payable 1st January and July.

$4,066,100

Under leave, Mr. Pennington, of Lee, entered his protest against the bill to have the Presidential electors appointed by the legislature :

PROTEST OF MR. PENNINGTON, OF LEE.

By consent, Mr. Pennington was permitted to enter the following protest against the passage of a bill to be entitled an act to repeal section 217 of the Revised Code, and for other purposes, upon the journals.

Mr. President : I enter this my solemn protest against the passage of the bill referred to, because it deprives the people of the source of all power under our Republican system of government, of the right to choose at the ballot box electors for President and Vice-President.

I protest against it because such unwarranted assumption of power on the part of the General Assembly, is without precedent in Alabama, and in this country, if we except South Carolina, a State never professed until lately, to have a Republican form of government ; and because it is at war with the great principles upon which the Republican party is based, and contrary to the very genius of our American system. I protest, because the members of this General Assembly were not elected with the view of the exercise of any such extraordinary powers, and because the passage of the bill stifles the voice of every man in the State who does not belong to the dominant party.

Respectfully submitted.

J. L. PENNINGTON.

Message was received from the Governor :

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
STATE OF ALABAMA, }
Montgomery, August 11, 1868. }

To the Senate :

By the 2d section, article 3d of the Constitution of the United States, it is provided that "each State shall appoint in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress. Thus it is clear that the Legislature of the State has the undoubted constitutional power to choose the Presidential electors. But the Constitution of this State requires that "every bill or resolution having the force of law, to which the concurrence of both houses of the General Assembly may be necessary, except on a question of adjournment, which shall have passed both houses, shall be presented to the Governor; and if he approves, he shall sign it; if not, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated." Here is devolved upon the Governor a plain, and at the same time an imperative duty. The Constitution is mandatory in requiring him to approve or disapprove every bill presented to him. He could not, if he would, evade the duty thus imposed upon him.

For several days I have been carefully and seriously considering the merits of the bill which originated in the Senate, to be entitled "An act to repeal section 217 of the Revised Code, and for other purposes." After the most mature reflection, I am forced to the conclusion that the bill is wrong in principle, and that it would be a dangerous precedent in a Republican government. As my judgment does not approve the bill, it is my constitutional duty to return it to the Senate with my objections. To me this is an unpleasant duty. If I entertained any doubt in regard to the justice or policy of this bill, I should certainly give the benefit of the doubt to the General Assembly and approve the bill.

All republics are based upon the doctrines that "governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed." No party in this country has proclaimed this doctrine with such pertinacity, or contended so earnestly for its adoption in its fullest sense, as the Republican party. That party stands committed by the platform recently adopted by the Convention at Chicago, which nominated Grant and Colfax, to the universal manhood suffrage in the States lately in rebellion. This position has been gradually assumed by the Republican party of the nation, at the earnest request of Southern Unionists, upon the plea that it was necessary for the protection of the union men of both races that colored men should be allowed to vote.

In the effort to secure this right, a conflict ensued between the Executive and Legislative departments of the National government which has convulsed the country, and well nigh precipitated a civil war. Indeed, the full extent, and ultimate result of that conflict cannot yet be foreseen.

It cannot but be regarded as remarkable, that the first Republican Legislature convened in Alabama, should, in the face of the principles of its organization, which every Republican professes to hold dear, deny not only to the colored, but to the white men, the right, by his vote, to indicate his choice for a President and Vice President of the United States, and take the matter in its own hands. What excuse can there be for it? Is it mere party expediency? If so, then it is an abandonment of principle, or an acknowledgment that the material out of which the Republican party is composed, cannot be trusted. In other words, it is to say that the colored men will not do to be trusted. The action of the General Assembly will be regarded as still more remarkable when considered in connection with what seems to have been the almost unanimous opinion of the leading members of the Republican party of Alabama.

It was belived by most of them, and so represented at Washington, that a large majority of the voting population of the State, were in favor of the new constitution. This was as much as to say that the Republican party was in a large majority in the State; for it is well known that none but Republicans favored the constitution; and even some of them opposed it. If the party is as strong as it has been supposed to be, then the necessity of party expediency does not exist. But even if it did exist, would we be justifiable in resorting to it? As much as I desire the election of Grant and Colfax, I am unwilling to become a party, in behalf of that desirable result, to a scheme which practically denies the very principles for which those standard bearers stand pledged before the country.

But it may be said, that, owing to the excited temper of the Democratic party, we cannot have a peaceable election; and that this measure is merely resorted to in the interest of peace. If this be so, then it is a recoil from the issue on our part, and a tacit acknowledgment that we are unable to protect ourselves against the minority. I respectfully submit, that the Republican party should not be exposed to the disparaging comments, not to say ridicule, that would result from this position.

In this connection the question may very properly be asked, if it is not safe to have an election now, when will it be? If you wait until the Democratic press, and Democratic voters cease to employ violent, exciting and abusive language, it is not at all probable that the time will ever come when we can have a peaceful election; and, therefore, to be consistent, we should avoid all elections in the future.

It may be contended with some degree of plausibility, that if our political opponents had the power which we possess, they would use it to secure the eight electoral votes of Alabama for Seymour and Blair. But does the assumption that the Democrats, if they had the power, would deprive the people of the right to vote, justify us in doing so? It seems to me that every candid man must answer no!

It is said that the old secession party, whose leaders are prominent in the Democratic party now, usurped, in 1860--1, power which belonged to the people, for the purpose of secession and war; and that now the Republican party would be justified in exercising a clear constitutional right in the interest of union and peace. I admit that this argument is not without some force, still, when examined carefully, I do not think it can be regarded as sound; for the effect of it, as I conceive, will not be for peace. The denial of any right to a people who have been accustomed to exercising it, will, in my opinion, be a source of irritation well calculated to produce violence. Every original Union man in Alabama felt aggrieved that the convention of 1861, which passed the ordinance of secession, did not submit its action to a vote of the people. It was held, and justly held, as a crime against the rights of the people. Those who acted thus, never sought to justify their conduct on any other ground than that of expediency. By their action, they showed that they were unwilling to trust the people. We all know the consequences. They need not be recounted here. Reference to them is only made for the purpose of showing that the action of political or legislative bodies, based upon expediency alone, must sooner or later, operate injuriously to the party resorting to it; and that when measures of expediency are adopted, they generally lead to results far different from those designed to be reached. In the particular case referred to, the consequence was the almost total ruin of the State.

For these reasons I respectfully return the bill to the Senate without my approval.

Mr. McAfee offered the following protest,

Which was ordered to be spread upon the journal :

In the matter of the bill for the government of the Bureau of Industrial Resources, which passed in the Senate of the Alabama Legislature, within the present session, Green T. McAfee, of the 10th senatorial district of Alabama, respectfully asks leave to dissent from, and enter this his protest against said bill, and that the same may be entered at large on the journals of this Senate ; and he assigns the following as reasons why he thinks the said bill is injurious to the public interests, to-wit :

1. The present financial embarrassment of Alabama, owing an amount exceeding five million dollars, renders it unwise to pass said bill and cause the powers conferred by "sections 2, 3, and 4 of the 12th article, title 'Industrial Resources,' Revised Constitution, Alabama, Nov. 5, 1867," as well as the powers invested in the officer at the head of said bureau, as above referred to, to be executed, inaugurated and put in force at this time.

2. The limit to the said powers is not fixed and restrained either by said Constitution or said act, so as to prevent incurring a debt against said State, which may hazard seriously, not only the credit of Alabama, but the solveny for many years.

3. The officer at the head of said bureau being now authorized by the bill recited at the head of this protest, passed by the constitutional grant of power conferred upon him by section 2, 12th article, as above recited, and by said bill, is invested with powers of the most extraordinary character ever known in a well regulated, free government—just so many, if carried out and executed, may cost and fix upon the State of Alabama, before they can revoke or repeal the same,  An indebtedness not less than the round sum of ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS DOLLARS.

4. Said commissioner is, by said act, invested with power to employ agents in every county and every State of the United States; not only so, but in all Europe, and the snall balance of the world besides; is invested, also, with large powers and discretion as to printing, and publications, and such other and further powers as by the putting the same in force, and by the execution of which may bankrupt any nation, having large or small sources of revenue.

5. Alabama and her citizens bankrupt! But a few days since her citizens were fed by the munificence (thanks to God for the kindness) of our friends and fellow-citizens North and East, or many an Alabamian would have died of hunger, and of whom, and from whom are the countless bills which, by the head of this bureau, will be presented at every annual session of its Legislature, (as long as any modern system of moral ethics,) until by such amendment as shall be proposed in due time, the bureau becomes defunct. By and of whom, I ask, and out of whom shall the money come wherewith to foot up and satisfy and pay off these long bills?

6. I acknowledge, the establishment no doubt, well regulated and kept within proper bounds, is a good one; the objects commend themselves to every rational mind, but the inauguration is premature and without an adequate money basis to sustain it for the present, so far, at least, as my beloved State of Alabama is concerned.

Respectfully submitted.

GREEN T. MCAFEE.

SEPTEMBER SESSION.

BLANK PAGE

CALLED SESSION.

SENATE CHAMBER, }
Wednesday, Sept. 16, 1868. }

In accordance with the proclamation of Governor Smith, as follows :

Whereas, the constitution of the State of Alabama makes it "the duty of the General Assembly to provide from time to time for the registration of all the electors," it being distinctly provided, that every elector, before being registered, shall take a prescribed oath ; and

Whereas, the General Assembly, at its second session, formally adopted the Revised Code of Alabama, except such parts thereof as conflict with the constitution and laws of the United States, or the constitution of this State ; and

Whereas, it is specifically provided in section 217 of the said Revised Code, that there shall be an election for electors of President and Vice President of the United States, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1868 ; and

Whereas, there seems to be a difference of opinion amongst officers of the State, whether or not the adoption of the Revised Code accomplishes all that is required by the constitution concerning the oath and registration of voters ; and

Whereas, the Governor has no authority under the constitution and laws, to determine a question of this character, his duties being executive and not legislative or judicial ; and

Whereas, the State constitution authorizes the Governor by proclamation, to convene the General Assembly on extraordinary occasions ; and

Whereas, for the reasons above stated, the necessity for a special session of the General Assembly is such as not only to justify the Governor in exercising the authority thus granted by the Constitution, but to make it his duty to do so ;

Now, therefore, I, William H. Smith, Governor of the State of Alabama, by virtue of the authority in me vested by the constitution, do issue this my proclamation, directing that the two Houses of the General Assembly convene in the capitol in the city of Montgomery, at 12 o'clock M., on Wednesday, the 16th September, 1868.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the State to be affixed, at the city of Montgomery, this second day of September, A. D., 1868, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the ninety-third year.

WILLIAM H. SMITH.

By the Governor :

CHAS. A. MILLER,

Sec'y of State.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,)
STATE OF ALABAMA,)
Montgomery, Sept. 16, 1868.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives :

Having deemed it a duty to convene the General Assembly in extraordinary session, I now proceed, as required by section 8, article 5, of the constitution, to the purpose for which you were called together.

On Tuesday, the 3d day of November next, electors for President and Vice President of the United States are to be chosen in the several States of the Union. The particular day on which they must be elected is fixed by a law of Congress ; but the election itself is to be conducted under the laws of each State respectively.

It is of course a matter of the first importance that every election, whether for the choice of Presidential electors, or for any other purpose, should be held in such a manner that its legality or validity cannot be called in question. As there is reasonable, or at least plausible, ground for doubt as to the sufficiency of existing laws in regard to elections, when we consider some of the features of our new constitution, it is surely the part of wisdom to have such doubt removed by additional legislation.

By section 3, Article 7 of the State Constitution, it is made "the duty of the General Assembly to provide, from time to time, for the registration of all electors." The 4th section of the same article requires that all persons, before registering, shall take and subscribe" a particular oath. It is clearly within the discretion of the General Assembly to determine, by legal provision, how electors are to be registered, and to direct the manner in which the designated oath is to be taken and subscribed.

Inasmuch as it is the constitutional duty of the Executive to recommend to the General Assembly such measures as he may deem expedient, I will now respectfully indicate the general character of a law, which, in my judgment, will meet the full requirements of the Constitution, and accomplish all the purposes contemplated by it. In providing for registration of electors, two important objects should be kept in view. One is to afford the amplest facilities to voters, and the other is to subject the State to as little expense as practicable. I think that both of these ends can be easily attained.

A registration of electors is simply a legally prepared list of such persons entitled to vote, as choose to have their names registered. It is manifestly intended by our Constitution, that the names of electors shall be registered before they vote. Actual voting is the deposit of a ballot, or ticket, in a ballot box. The Revised Code of Alabama provides that, before any one is entitled to have his ballot deposited in a box, or in other words, before he can vote, his name must be written upon two separate lists. This, in my view, is, to all intents and purposes, a registration of electors. Under the new Constitution, however, no man can have his name lawfully placed upon a registration list without first taking and subscribing the electors' oath. The form of the oath is given in the Constitution; and some legal provision should be made for having it properly taken and subscribed. I think that the Constitutional requirement in this regard will be fully complied with if authority be given to have the oath administered by, and subscribed before the returning officer or an inspector of election, as voters present themselves at the polls. Blank forms of the oath should be printed and distributed so that each voter could readily obtain a copy of it. Officers conducting the election should be required to administer the oath without extra charge.

Under such a law as this, voting could not, of course, be done as rapidly as heretofore, when no oath was required. But whatever inconvenience would result from this cause, may be easily remedied. The proper officer should be authorized to provide as many voting boxes at each precinct as may be requisite to enable all voters to exercise the elective franchise without difficulty or unnecessary delay. Under the law as it now stands, votes are received at one designated locality in each precinct. These localities are presumed to be sufficiently accessible to accommodate all voters. But now that colored men are enfranchised, the voting population is much larger than formerly; and this fact, taken in connection with the slower process of voting where an oath has to be administered to electors at the polls, constitutes, in my judgment, a strong reason for authorizing two or more boxes at one place where it may be deemed necessary. This would merely involve an increase in the number of election officers.

While the chief purpose for which I considered it advisable to convene the General Assembly, was to afford an opportunity for the enactment of a law under which our elections can be held free from all possible doubt, yet I would direct attention to an act passed at your recent session, amendatory of the Internal Improvement Law of the State. The act has the effect of depriving a railroad having one or both of its termini outside of the State, of the benefit of the Internal Improvement Law, until at least twenty miles of the road shall have been built within the limits of this State, notwithstanding more than that distance may be completed outside of it. There is some reason to believe that this act, unless amended, will seriously retard the construction of one road, which if built, will be a great public benefit. It is probable that the peculiar phraseology of the act which has this effect, was employed inadvertently; and I therefore recommend the enactment of a law which will remedy the result. We should do everything consistent with the ability of the State to encourage works of internal improvement, and develop our material resources.

WILLIAM H. SMITH, Governor.

Which message was read.

Message from the House, as follows:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, }
October 3, 1868. }

Mr. President:

I am instructed by the House to inform the Senate of its having originated and passed a bill to amend section 2339 of the Revised Code of Alabama.

Very respectfully,

W. B. CLOUD, Clerk.

Mr. McAfee asked leave, which was granted him, to have the following protest spread upon the journal of the Senate:

PROTEST OF G. T. MCAFEE, OF TENTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

A bill to be entitled an act for the protection of bona fide purchasers for valuable consideration, in the Senate of the State of Alabama, Oct. 1, 1868,

I object to the passage of the bill for reasons as follows, to wit :

1. The proposition contained in the bill is repugnant to the constitution of the United States, and if it becomes a law it is null and void.—[Art. 1, S. 10, Con. U. S. ; Art. 1, S. 24, Con. Ala. ; 1 Kent, 9th Ed. 500.

2. It is in the power of the judiciary to declare it void.—[Ib. 501, 502.

3. It is only by the free exercise of this power that courts of justice are enabled to repeal assaults and protect every part of the government and every member of the community from undue and destructive innovations upon the chartered rights.—[Ib. 1.

4. It belongs to the judicial power by a matter of right and duty to declare every act of the legislature made in violation of the constitution, or of any provision of it, null and void.—[3d Art. Con. Ala., 1 Kent 503, note (a) (1) ; Acts Pa. and S. C. ; No. Car., notes a. b. and c.

And the powers of the legislature are defined and limited by a written constitution, but to what purpose is that limitation if those limits may at any time be passed.—[1 Kent, 505, near foot of the page.

When a statute takes effect.

A statute when duly made, takes effect from its date, when no time is fixed, and this now is the settled rule.—[Ib. 507 ; Monkwith v. Hayward ; 2 Howard U. S. p. 613, note 1.

It cannot be admitted that a statute shall, by any fiction, have any effect before it was actually passed. A retroactive statute would partake in its character of the mischiefs of the ex-post facto law, as to all cases of crimes and penalties, and in every other case relating to contracts or property, it would be against every sound principle.—[Ib. 508, at top of page.

It would come within the reach of the doctrine, that a statute is not to have a retrospective effect, and which doctrine was very much discussed in the case Dash v. Vancleek, referring to 7 Johns. Rep. 477.

And shown to be founded not only on English law, but on the principle of general jurisprudence, referring to note 1, Kent, 508.

No statute is to have a retrospect beyond time of its commencement.—[Bacon's Abt. vol. 6, 307 ; 7 Johns. 393.

It is said, it is repugnant to the first principle of justice, and the equal and permanent security of rights to take by law the property of one individual, without his consent and give it to another.—[7 Johns. Rep. side page, 494.

The principle contended for by the friends of the bill before this honorable body inevitably leads to and sanctions such a doctrine.—[7 Johns. 494.

For if plaintiffs can be deprived of their remedy, already vested by and under the sanctions of the legislature, (by the acts of 1861, 1863, 1866 and 1867 sought to be repealed); with equal propriety, might they be compelled to refund the money. Blackstone in his commentaries treats it as a first principle.—All laws are to commence in future, and operate prospectively.—[7 Johns. 493 ; 1 Com. 449.

After referring to the unjust and iniquitous practice of the Roman Emperor (Caligula) as to the manner of ruling and publishing his laws, he observes that there is still a more unreasonable method than this, which is called making laws ex-post facto, although technically speaking, the term ex-post facto may be applicable to laws punishing criminal offenses, the principle is equally applicable to civil cases.—[Com. Blackston 501.e

An act of the legislature ought never to be construed so as to do injustice. Lord Coke lays down the rule to be, that acts of Parliament ought to be so construed as that no man who is innocent, or free from injury, shall by a literal interpretation, be punished or endangered.—[Ib. 501 ; Coke v. Littleton, 360 (a) 7 Johns. 502.

Stay Laws.—The laws in force when a right vests, enters into and forms a binding part of the contract between parties thereto.—[Smith's Com. bottom of page 393 ; Ib. 389.

In the case before the Senate, as to and by virtue of the provisions of the acts 1861 especially, and 1863 and 1866 and 1867, in consideration of the remedies suspended, which plaintiffs had and held under laws in force before the enactment of laws above referred to, to collect their moneys due by judgments, the State bound itself to, and did grant security by giving plaintiffs liens on all the property and estate of the defendants, in consideration of the stay of judgments and executions thereon.—[Acts Ala. of 1861, 1863, 1866 and 1867.

Laws generally are prospective and not retrospective.—[8th Ga. Rep. 31 and 32 ; N. H. Rep. 214.

Quo-ad remedies.—The legislature may regulate remedies.—[Bronson v. Ainsey, 1 Howard 315 ; and Ib. 316, at top of p.

Whatever belongs merely to the remedy, may be altered, according to the will of the State, provided the alteration does not impair the obligation of the contract, but if that effect is produced, it is immaterial whether it is done by acting on the remedy directly on the contract itself.—[1 Howard 316, entire page 31 ; 2 Howard, 612 and 613.

Liens created.—Acts of Alabama quo-ad 1861, Section 5. No execution shall issue.—1861 p. 33; 1863 p. 55.

In section 6 of acts, lien forfeited, if plaintiff refuses Confederate money. Acts of 7th Dec. 1866, opening trial unconstitutional.—1861 ; S. 6 ; Acts 1866.

Acts of 1867, declaratory and does not affect lien of act of 1861. Approved, Dec. 10, 1861.—[p. 33, S. 1 ; Curry v. Sanders, 35 Ala. 280 ; Darling v. Black, 28 Ala. 328 ; Iverson v. Shorter, 9 Ala. 713 ; Also, 3 Ala.

In all cases, wherein a change in the laws hath taken place, cited and relied upon by the friends of the bill, now before us, the parties could, after the statutes were passed conform to the law and preserve their liens. None of the above cases and laws operate backward, and hence no liens were destroyed by time.

Under the bill before this honorable body, no diligence can preserve the liens. They are swept away by an edict of legislation ; relentless, universal, and in the face of the settled elementary law, and in the face of the settled elementary and adjudicated law enunciated by the brightest intellects which have, and do adorn English, American and civil law ; universal in its permeation, through the rights of all creditors, whether as femme covert, idiots, lunatics and persons of all grades and degrees, non compos mentis, heirs, distributees, and devisee, of the patrimony, of affectionate parents and ancestry, and the helpless as well as the independent of all grades, and relations of human society.

I protest against the passage of this bill, for the causes as set forth hereinafter—because

1. It is against all well settled statute and common law, which is now and has been in force time out of mind.

2. It is repugnant to the rights of creditors.

3. It is contrary to the spirit of the legislators who enacted the statute of December 10, 1861, and of 1863, 1866, and 1867.

4. It is against justice, reason and law.

5. It is against the 10th section 1st article of the constitution of the United States.

6. It is repugnant and contrary to the constitution of the State of Alabama, article 1st, section 24.

7. It is against the rights of all persons.

8. It is against public policy.

9. It is wrong to take the property of one person and give it to another; it being also and at the same time against the law.

10. It is trenching on the judicial functions of the judiciary and therefore unjustifiable on the part of this honorable body, whose functions are legislative purely.

11. Because it forcibly implies, either a want of principle or a competent knowledge of the legitimate functions and duties of this body in assuming to discharge judicial functions in the premises.

Message from the Governor as follows :

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
STATE OF ALABAMA, }
Montgomery, November 9, 1868. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and

House of Representatives :

Presuming that few subjects will require action at your hands during the present session, I deem it advisable to invite attention to a measure connected with Internal Improvements in our State. It is gratifying to know that capitalists abroad are anxiously seeking information respecting the latent resources of Alabama, with a view of determining the question of making investments to develop them. Special inquiry is now being made in reference to the practicability of improving some of our rivers, so as to increase their navigable facilities. Some of the richest iron mines and coal fields of the State are situated on and near the upper Coosa, which is but partially navigated, and the Cahaba, and upper Warrior, which are not navigable at all. Capitalists who are inclined to invest in these mines and fields very naturally take into consideration the means of transporting their products to market. Hence the interest that is manifested in regard to the feasibility of rendering those streams navigable.

In view of all this, I am inclined to think the public interest would be materially advanced by making provision for obtaining reliable facts on this subject. This could be done by a limited appropriation, to be applied to the survey of the rivers mentioned. It is true that the Coosa river was recently surveyed under State authority ; and the ascertained facts resulting from the survey, are highly satisfactory. But the money appropriated for the purpose was exhausted before some of the impediments in the lower part of the river were as thoroughly examined as was desired by the commissioner who made the survey. A comparatively small expenditure would now develop all the additional information requisite to a thorough understanding of the whole question of rendering the Coosa river navigable for large boats. It will not require a large amount to survey the Cahaba and the upper Warrior.

It is of course not proposed that the State shall undertake the work of opening these rivers, even if its entire feasibility should be ascertained. Under our State Constitution, enterprises of that character are very properly left to private capitalists. But it seems to me that the State would largely contribute to the public welfare by officially obtaining and publishing such information as would serve as a guide to private individuals in deciding the question of turning such improvements to practical and profitable account.

In making these surveys, much valuable information might be incidentally collected, in regard to the mineral and other resources of the regions through which these streams flow. Our State abounds in rich iron beds and coal fields ; they are already attracting the notice of capitalists, although the facts as to their real value are but imperfectly known. With correct information properly disseminated, there is every reason to believe that the requisite capital would be brought into the State to open up communication with our mineral regions, either by improving rivers, or building railways.

In any event, we should do everything that is practical to invite capital among us. Much might be accomplished in this way, by circulating reliable information respecting our material resources.

For these general reasons, I respectfully recommend an appropriation of such amount as the General Assembly may deem proper, to be applied to a survey of the rivers named, and the mineral regions contiguous to them. Capitalists abroad are frequently applying for information in reference to these rivers and mines; and the object desired is to collect it in an authentic form at as early a day as practicable.

I deem it proper, also, to refer to a serious evil existing in this State, which seems to call for a legal remedy. On the files of this Department, there is ample evidence of the existence of an organization in some parts of the State, whose members have committed acts which show conclusively that they aim at the accomplishment of purposes that are wholly unwarranted by law. Bands of disguised men have appeared in various localities, particularly in North Alabama, and by threats and violence, intimidated and maltreated peaceful and unoffending citizens. It is charged from responsible sources, that in some cases, harmless and defenceless persons have been subjected to personal indignities and assaults of the gravest character.

All this is inconsistent with the peace, quiet, good order, and subordination to law, which it is the first duty of all governments to maintain; and it is clearly a duty incumbent upon the proper authorities, to inquire what measures are necessary to remedy the admitted evil. Good and law-abiding citizens are entitled to the law's protection; and yet many such have suffered at the hands of men, whose disguise secures them against detection. If existing laws are not sufficient to reach this class of offenders, it is manifestly proper that suitable laws for this purpose should be enacted.

At the same time this subject should be approached with all due care. If additional legislation be found necessary, full and precise information should be obtained, so that the law can be framed in such a manner as to accomplish the desired object. With this view, I respectfully suggest that a joint committee of the two Houses be appointed, to collect and reduce to practical form the facts in relation to the conduct of disguised men, either by visiting localities where they have appeared in public, or otherwise, as may be deemed best.

It is solely in the interest of law, public peace, and general tranquillity, that I refer to this subject. I feel that we may confidently rely upon the hearty co-operation of all good citizens in seeking an appropriate remedy for this evil.

Preparations are now being made for a State Agricultural Fair, which will be opened near the city of Montgomery in a few days. This is an enterprise of public importance, and I think it is deserving of recognition and encouragement at the hands of the State. I therefore recommend that a limited appropriation be made in behalf of this Fair, to be paid from the State Treasury to Mr. S. G. Reid, to whose exertions we are largely indebted for this highly useful and praiseworthy enterprise, and who has incurred much expense in connection with it.

WILLIAM H. SMITH.

Which was read, and on motion, 1500 copies were ordered to be printed.

Mr. Sanford, from the joint select committee, submitted a report ;

And also the following resolutions :

Resolved, By the Senate, the House concurring, that the present annual session be continued longer than thirty days, the limit of annual sessions as fixed by the Constitution of the State of Alabama, Article 4, Section 21 ;

Which resolution was adopted ; yeas 22, nays 6.

Those who voted in the affirmative are, Messrs. Barr, Glass, Hays, King, Lambert, Lentz, Mabry, Martin, McAfee, Morton, Oliver, Pennington, Richards, Royal, Sanford, Sevier, Sibley, Stow, Whitney, Worthy, Wyman and Yordy—22.

The great mineral and agricultural resources of Alabama are now attracting the attention of capitalists from all portions of the United States and Europe ; representatives from England, Boston, New York and elsewhere are now in Montgomery, desirous of purchasing lands, and also anxious to build railroads, open and improve our rivers, and to build iron furnaces, rolling mills, cotton and wool factories, flouring mills, lumber mills, &c.

Your committee, believing as they do, that we have an inexhaustible supply of the finest iron, coal, timber for ship building and for general use, together with the many other minerals and salts, from which are produced alum, sulphur, mercury, glass, and other valuables of daily and general use, we have arrived at the conclusion that all the immense and invaluable treasures must remain unproductive and undeveloped to the State and the world, unless a cheap and sure mode of transportation can be furnished to the great marts of the world, and especially to the sea coast, and principal towns and cities of our own State; and believing that such transportation can be furnished cheaper, by the improvement of our rivers, so as to make them navigable, and also to run machinery; and believing also that the welfare and best interests of the people and government demand such improvements, and also believing that the State should grant some aid to such enterprise, we recommend the passage of the following bill:

Mr. Worthy, from the committee on public buildings, reported as follows:

The committee on public buildings beg leave to submit the following

REPORT :

Your committee are of the opinion that some legislative action is necessary to maintain good order, cleanliness and comfort in some parts of the State House that are immediately connected with the Legislature. The rotunda between the Senate Chamber and the Hall of the House of Representatives, and the passages connected therewith, are in a bad condition, and some steps should be taken to have them improved.

Their uncleanness is a subject of common remark. In the rotunda there are too many refreshment stands and eating tables. They attract numerous idlers, whose noise, boisterous laughing, and sometimes highly improper talk, are little if anything short of an absolute nuisance. They are certainly very unpleasant to members, and so forbidding to visitors that we seldom if ever have any spectators, except such as have actual business before the Legislature.

All this is inconsistent with the dignity, decorum and respectability which we should all take pleasure in maintaining in the capitol of the State.

Again, your committee think that the keeping of liquor in the State House should be prohibited. Some rule should be adopted under which intoxicating drinks could neither be sold or given away in any of the rooms or offices connected with the Legislature.

There is another general evil which your committee think requires a remedy. It has become customary to use the State House and State House square for all kinds of political meetings. In this way, much damage is done to the furniture, the building itself, and the property around it. The keeper of the State House is, by law, charged with the custody of the public property connected with it ; but he has no authority to prohibit the holding of county conventions, city mass meetings, &c., which do much damage here, and which could just as conveniently, and much more appropriately be held at the court house or elsewhere.

It is, of course, not proposed to interfere with state conventions, or other meetings which are of general State importance.

But your committee are of opinion that there should be some restriction upon the holding of any and all kinds of meetings in the State House and square. With such a restriction, we think that existing laws are amply sufficient to enable the keeper of the State House to take proper care of it, and all the property connected with it, when the Legislature is not in session. We think that, during the session, it is manifestly proper that some legislative officer should be specially charged with the duty of taking charge of, and maintaining proper order in, those portions of the building that are used for legislative purposes.

Your committee, therefore, recommend the adoption of the joint resolution appended to this report.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. N. WORTHY, Chairman.

For the preservation of the capitol and the public property connected therewith,

Were read twice.

Mr. Mabry moved to amend so as “not to take effect until the end of the present session.”

Mr. Worthy presented the following protest ;

Which was read and ordered to be spread upon the journal:

Mr. President :

I beg leave to spread upon the journals of this Senate, my solemn protest against the passage of this bill, for the following brief reasons :

1. It is in my judgment unconstitutional.

2. That if by possibility, the bill could be relieved from the first objection, then it were a useless piece of legislation in that, it cannot, in my opinion, be enforced, because it has been publicly declared in effect, that nine-tenths of the white people of the State are opposed to it.

3. Because, in its tendencies I can only see a bid for mischief—an invitation for rapine and murder, and to almost every other crime known to the criminal calendar.

4. Because, in effect, it offers an inducement to the amount of $5,000 to every wife who is tired of her husband ; to every derelict husband ; to every son who wants his father's estate ; to every next of kin, who values money more than he does the life of him who stands between him and the coveted money, to arrange and accomplish the assassination of the person who stands in the way of his desires ; a burnt cork, a half yard of crape wrapped around the head of the corpse, will furnish the necessary disguise, and the law furnishes $5,000 worth of consolation to the bereaved family who have lost a member. Verily can they say, "our loss is gain"—instead, it must be "his loss of life is our gain in dollars and cents."

5. For five thousand dollars, many a man will be found who will submit to a sound beating, pre-arranged by him and his friends, who will be sure to touch no vital point, nor brake a bone.

The whole bill is a bonus offered for assassination and perjury. If its provisions are enforced, crime will be increased a thousand fold ; every county in the State will be made bankrupt in twelve months ; murder most foul will stalk throughout the land. No man will be safe at home or abroad, and the name of Alabama will be a scorn and reproach throughout the christian world.

6. This bill presents the horrible spectacle of a State in the Federal Union converting itself into a life insurance company, thereby saying to the wicked and depraved of earth, to come into this State, and have himself insured, so, when by wicked device, after having spent a life in infamy, his family can be comfortably provided for.

Mr. Sibley moved to reconsider the vote by which said bill was passed ;

Which motion, on motion of Mr. Farden, was laid on the table.

Leave of absence was granted to Mr. Pennington, until Tuesday next ;

And to Mr. Buckley until Monday next.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA, }
December 7, 1868. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and

House of Representatives :

I deem it proper to inform the General Assembly of the condition of some land in the State of Nebraska, to which the State of Alabama is entitled. In the counties of Madison and Jackson, in this State, there is a district known in the U. S. surveys and designated in Federal and State laws, as the "Twelve Miles Square Reservation." This Reservation embraces within its limits, the 16th sections of five different townships. Many years ago, the whole district was disposed of by the U. S. Government in a treaty with the Cherokee Indians; and hence the 16th sections of its five different townships have not been available under the general law of Congress, which made a donation of public land for common school purposes.

In order, however, that the townships within this Reservation might be placed upon an equal footing with others, an act was passed by Congress and approved January 22, 1854, authorizing the selection of a like quantity of land by legal subdivisions, from any of the surveyed land of the United States. (See U. S. Statutes at Large, vol. 10, pp. 299.) Under the authority of this law, in the fall of 1858, the proper quantity of land was selected in the then Territory and now State of Nebraska. The selections were officially approved by the Secretary of the interior, on the 31st day of December, 1859. This approval vested in the State of Alabama the same title to these selected lands that it holds to the unincumbered 16th sections within the limits of the State.

For the purpose of providing a mode of accepting these lands and disposing of them, an act was passed by the Alabama Legislature and approved February 23, 1860. (See acts of 1859--60 p. 103.) From the record and files of this Department, it does not appear that any thing was done under that act. At any rate, none of the land selected in Nebraska has been sold. The various tracts belonging to the State are officially recorded, not only in the General Land Office at Washington, but in the Land Office in Nebraska. These several tracts amount in the aggregate to some 2,500 acres. From information which is deemed reliable, there is reason to believe that they may be sold without much difficulty for about $6,000.

I think it advisable to have these lands sold at as early a day as practicable. The general provisions of the act of February 23, 1860, give ample authority for this purpose, though I think that one feature of it should be amended. It is provided in the act, that an agent shall be appointed to sell the lands in Nebraska; and the 4th section fixes the compensation of such agent at five per cent. of the proceeds. I think that such per centage at the present time is too small; and therefore recommend that authority be given for the allowance of a larger rate, not to exceed ten per cent.

The money realized from the sale of these lands, will, of course, go to the Common School Fund, and be held in trust by the State, for the benefit of the townships embraced in the resolution above referred to.

WILLIAM H. SMITH.

Said message was read and referred to the Committee on Education.

STATE OF ALABAMA,

Montgomery, December 29, 1868. }

To the Senate :

I transmit herewith a report from the Secretary of State in regard to the late registration of voters in Alabama. Appended to the report is a carefully prepared table, showing the number of voters registered in each county, under the act approved October 5th, 1868, and also the number registered under the military authorities preceding the election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention, in 1867, and revised prior to the election for the ratification of the Constitution. The report also shows that the entire expense connected with the registration was $15,049 73, which is less than the amount appropriated for the purpose at your last session.

No legislation is necessary in connection with this report, but as the registration to which it refers is to be a permanent basis for future elections, I deem it advisable to communicate it for your information, so that it may become formally identified with your legislative records.

WILLIAM H. SMITH.

Hon. Wm. H. Smith, Governor of Alabama :

SIR: By an act of the General Assembly, approved by your Excellency, October 5th, 1868, it was made the duty of the Secretary of State to superintend the registration of electors of this State. Having attended to that duty, and received complete returns, I submit, very respectfully, the accompanying tabular statement.

The books pertaining to the military registration of the State were, by an order of General Meade, transferred to this office, and I have given in the accompanying exhibit, for convenience of reference, the registration by counties as made by the military and civil authorities. It will be seen that 171,278 were registered under military authority, while the last registration shows 171,448—a gain of 70.

I am indebted entirely to a most efficient corps of assistants for whatever success has attended this registration.

Accompanying, also, please find an exhibit of the entire expense incurred under this act, amounting to fifteen thousand forty-nine dollars and seventy-three cents.

I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

CHAS A. MILLER,

Secretary of State.

Mr. Pennington, from the select committee to investigate frauds or attempted frauds on the Auditor, submitted the following report, which was received and the committee discharged :

Report of committee to examine if any frauds have been practiced, or attempted to be practiced, on the Auditor of public accounts.

The committee to whom was referred a joint resolution relative to frauds, or attempted frauds, on the Auditor of public accounts, beg leave to report as follows :

It does not appear by any evidence in possession of the committee, that any members of the Legislature have attempted any fraud upon the Auditor. Some vouchers, irregular in form, have been presented which the Auditor has declined to audit, but it does not appear that he has refused to audit any claim authorized by law. In the opinion of your committee, the Auditor has been vigilant and efficient in the discharge of his official duties, and he has been guilty of no discourtesy to the General Assembly.

The few vouchers which the Auditor has declined to audit, are not deemed by the committee as attempts to defraud the treasury, but seem to be attributable to clerical errors, or carelessness on the part of clerks. If, however, parties whose vouchers the Auditor has declined to audit, feel aggrieved, in the opinion of the committee, they should seek their redress through the courts, and not at the hands of the General Assembly.

The action of the Auditor in the premises is sustained by a written opinion of the Attorney General, which has been before the committee.

With these statements, the committee ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

1. That the seat of the senator from the first district is vacant by reason of the resignation of Senator Lentz.

2. That the senator from the 21st district has not been in his seat during the present session and is absent without leave, and therefore said seat should be declared vacant.

3. That the 26th and 27th senatorial districts, and perhaps others, are represented on this floor, one by a judge of probate of Choctaw county, and the other by the Mayor of the city of Demopolis.

4. That the 31st district has not been represented at all on this floor, nor has the Senate been advised of the resignation or the death of the senator elect—therefore, your committee are of opinion that this seat should be declared vacant.

5. Your committee would recommend to each senator to examine and decide as to the constitutional tenure by which he holds his office, and, if by fair legal construction, they do so in contravention of the constitution, they beg to express the hope that they will resign ; that the dignity of the Senate depends much upon the rightful holding of the seats of senators.

Respectfully submitted.
